President's Corner

Looking back to our most recent annual meeting in Montrose, I think most of you would agree that it must rank as one of the outstanding successes in CCPA's brief history. Many thanks are extended to Susan Chandler, Alan Reed and the staff of Alpine Archaeological Consultants for their efforts in organizing the meeting. Special thanks also to Sally Crum and Karen Brockman for putting together the symposium, as well as to all of our symposium participants for making this event such a valuable experience for us all. Hopefully, CCPA will be following up on some of the suggestions made during the symposium, but more about in a minute.

First, I'd like to congratulate all our new board members, both on their successful election and especially for agreeing to run for their positions when solicited. Finding members willing to put in the time to make CCPA work is always a challenge, so thanks also are in order to those on the ballot who were not elected.

Speaking of the Executive Committee, we'll be having our summer meeting this year on July 9 at noon in the Hotel Colorado in Glenwood Springs. One topic for discussion will be options for updating the RP-3 contexts, now a decade old. We'll also be examining the Native American consultation issues brought up at the annual meeting. One possible outcome may be the formation of a committee to explore ways to streamline the process to everyone's benefit. Another possibility is to create a Native American position on our

Editor's Corner

This issue of the Newsletter is a little short, but hey, we have pictures!!! Its a busy time of the year and actually, very few of you sent in anything!!! At the last CCPA meeting in Montrose, I announced that after 2 years, I was ready to pass the job of Newsletter Editor on to someone else. Well, since the March meeting, we have had no takers for the job! Really, I cannot understand why. The pay is great, good benefits, and those court-side Nuggets tickets worked out great. I especially enjoyed the use of the CCPA Executive Condo at Belfield, North Dakota. Again, if any of you are interested in this job, please let me or Kevin Black know. The next Newsletter is due out in November, 1994. This really is my last one!

Executive Committee, a move which would necessitate a bylaws change. As a first gesture, we will be inviting several Native American representatives to our upcoming summer meeting as an introduction to the workings of CCPA. I envision many spirited discussions on how we can best accomplish our goals in these matters, and your input would be welcomed.

Marilyn Martorano informs me that the CCPA brochure is nearly ready for distribution. We'll be starting with production of 500 brochures to gauge the demand before proceeding with any larger printings. Distribution of the first 500 also will be discussed at the summer meeting, but any ideas you have in this regard would be appreciated.

CCPA is saddened by the recent passing of Marie Wormington. Dr. Wormington died recently at her home in Denver and she will be missed by the anthropological community here in Colorado and throughout the world.

Finally, please note that we still do not have a volunteer to take over the Newsletter Editor position from Ron Rood. This is a vital function of CCPA and deserves your consideration. Help Ron out if you can.

Until next time, have a great field season!

Kevin Black

THERE WILL BE A TRIBUTE TO DR. MARIE WORMINGTON ON JULY 11, 1994 AT 5:30P.M. AT RICKETSON AUDITORIUM-DENVER MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY. THIS TRIBUTE IS BEING ORGANIZED BY CCPA, CAS, COLORADO HISTORICAL SOCIETY, AND THE DENVER MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY.

Book Note: The National Park Service recently released a publication by Susan L. Henry, "Protecting Archeological Sites on Private Lands" which describes various conservation methods for threatened sites including land use regulations, zoning restrictions, easements, site stewardship programs, etc. Copies of the book can be obtained from Ms. Henry at the Interagency Resources Division, Suite 250, National Park Service, P.O. Box 37127, Washington, D.C. 20013-7127.

Current Research

Western State College is preparing for another field season at the Tenderfoot site, 5GN-1835 located just outside of the town of Gunnison. This years field school will be under the direction of Ronald Rood and Dr. Mark Stiger of Western State. The Tenderfoot site is a multi-component camp with radiocarbon dates ranging from 8000 to 2000 BP with most of the dates clustering around 6000 BP. This seasons work will be focused on continued surface collection and mapping, block excavation, and a search for houses! In addition to Western State students, members of the Chipeta and Hurst Chapters of CAS and elementary and junior high students from Montrose and Gunnison will be helping with the fieldwork. Research at the Tenderfoot site is being funded by Western State College, the Colorado Historical Society, and by the City of Gunnison.

The Anthropology Department at Western State is currently conducting test excavations on a small lithic scatter on the Gunnison National Forest above Lake City, Colorado. This site was damaged by logging activity after it was identified during a Forest Service sponsored inventory of the timber sale area. The site consists of a surface expression of 50 flakes including cherts and obsidian. To date, testing has revealed buried artifacts and discrete activity areas. Western is also involved in a project, partially funded by the Colorado Historical Society Gambling Fund, to source lithic raw material areas, including obsidian source areas in and around the Gunnison Basin.

Thanks to everyone who attended the Native American Consultation and Archaeology symposium at this year's annual meeting! It was a great success and we had a big turn-out. Our speakers enjoyed the meeting and felt it was very constructive and informative. I made a few new friends and learned a great deal. Thanks to Alpine Archaeological Consultants for hosting the meeting and special thanks to Sally Crum for her support and organizational help. See you all at the next annual meeting.

COLORADO COUNCIL OF PROFESSIONAL ARCHÆOLOGISTS

COLORADO COUNCIL OF PROFESSIONAL ARCHAEOLOGISTS
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING
MONTROSE, COLORADO
MARCH 4, 1994

Attendees: Kevin Black (President), Bruce Bradley (Past President), Jeff Eighmy (Vice President/President Elect), Deb Angulski (Secretary), Jeanne Mobley-Tanaka (Treasurer), Rand Gruebel (Director), Sally Crum (Director), Mike Metcalf (Director), Meg Van Ness (out-going Secretary), Angela Schwab (out-going Director), Gordy Tucker (File system report), Bob Brunswig (Education committee Chairman) and Rosemary Sucec (survey for membership).

President Kevin Black called the meeting to order at approximately 12:30 pm. He announced that the out-going treasurer, Jenny Anderson, would stay on until the books were closed out at the end of March and then would pass them on to the new treasurer, Jeanne Mobley-Tanaka. It is also the Treasurer's job to keep an updated list of the membership. This should be printed in the next newsletter.

The outgoing Directors are Al Kane and Angela Schwab. Sally Crum and Mike Metcalf have one more year remaining as Directors. New Directors are Rand Gruebel and Carol Gleichman. They have been elected for two year terms.

FILE SYSTEM REPORT - Gordy Tucker

Gordy does not think that the records are complete. We may want to make another solicitation to the membership to make sure everyone has turned over all appropriate records or files.

Kevin suggested that we put together a master list of all newsletters. The suggestion was made to produce a duplicate set of newsletters and minutes and to keep one set at the SHPO office.

The Denver Public Library (DPL) will organize the material. We will have a contact with the DPL.

A majority vote, and written approval, of the Executive Committee will be required when someone wants to access certain materials, such as proceedings of the ethics committee. The Secretary will be the point of contact for this request and written approval will be from the President. This material is already sorted in the "Ethics Proceeding File."

SURVEY ON ANTHROPOLOGY OF ARCHAEOLOGISTS - Rosemary Sucec

Rosemary would like to use the CCPA mailing list to distribute her survey. She will publish her findings in the newsletter.

COMMITTEE ON STUDENT INTERNSHIPS - Gordy Tucker

Cal Jennings and Kay Adams are also on this committee. They would like to query other states to see if they have programs like this and how they work. Gordy thought that they would do more research and have something more to present at next year's meeting. Crow Canyon has a program like this and has people compete internationally. Mike Metcalf uses local college students and then pays them a little less. Also CSU, CU, and Metropolitan State College have programs, but students are not eligible for pay if they are receiving course credit. Gordy asked if the CCPA was still interested in pursuing this and the consensus was yes. Gordy will continue to pursue.

EDUCATION COMMITTEE - Bob Brunswig

The committee is planning on having next year's Education Conference at Fort Lewis College. He asked for opinions as to what would be a good time of the year. The consensus was that it should probably be in the winter of 1995, so as not to conflict with the Annual meeting. The Annual meeting will probably be held the first weekend of March, 1995.

OTHER BUSINESS

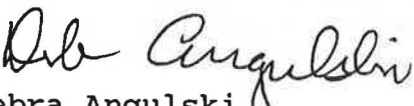

The committee voted to use the color blue for the CCPA brochure. There will be 500 copies printed, hopefully on recycled paper.

The funds from the silent auction will go to the general fund.

We will look into raising the dues this year.

The next Executive committee meeting will be held on Saturday, July 9, 1994, at the Hotel Colorado in Glenwood Springs.

Respectfully submitted,

Debra Angulski
Secretary
